Individuals may also pursue legal options by filing a report with the local police by calling 911.

get the facts

#1. Office of Title IX

The Office of Title IX has the specific responsibility of providing prompt and effective responses to all complaints of sex discrimination or harassment for faculty, staff, and students. The Office of Title IX provides training to the campus community, manages cases, coordinates informal resolutions and formal investigations, and assists with providing interim measures.

#2. Supportive Measures

Supportive Measures are designed to restore or preserve equal access to the University's educational programs and/or activities without unreasonably burdening the other party, including measures designed to protect the safety of all parties or the University's educational environment, or deter sexual harassment.

#3. Retaliation

The University prohibits and will not tolerate retaliation. If a retaliation charge is shown to have occurred, it can be the basis for disciplinary action. Retaliation is adverse actions taken against a person because of their good faith participation in the Title IX process.
